

ACCESS GUIDE FOR UCPORI STUDENTS

How to use your electric key right

All full time students of University Consortium of Pori (UCPori) are allowed to get a personal electronic key to the premises of UCPori.

The electric key costs 20 € (pawn fee). You can get your key & PIN code from the Service Desk in the main lobby. Take ID card with you! The pawn fee will be paid back when you return the key.

You have access rights only to the premises in which the electric key lets you go. Your key is valid for one academic year. Access rights remain, if you continue studying. The key will expire automatically when you finish your studies.

The electric key readers are black boxes, which are located near or beside the doors.

To open the exterior doors, you need also a PIN code. Enter the code to the black electric key reader (black box with numbers in it) after you have "shown" the key.

In the evenings and during the weekend, you must use the Pohjoisranta 11C-door or patio doors to get inside the building.

IMPORTANT! If you stay in UCPori premises in the evening, you must re-enter at 20:30–21:00.

The access control system throws everyone out at 21:00. If you don't re-enter/sign-in (or leave the premises before 21:00), you cause an automatic alert.

Alert → the security guard will come → alert fee

Access control system will also cause an alert if you walk against your access rights or if you don't use the electric key at every door you should have.

Alert → the security guard will come → alert fee

All alert fees will be charged from the person who causes the alert!

NOTICE! When you receive the electric key, you accept the rules and fees with your signature. If you break the rules, you may lose your access rights.

A recordable CCTV covers the premises of UCPori.

For more information, please contact Service Desk.
